IN THE SOCIAL WORLD

The Column Everybody Reads—Chat About Your Friends and Neighbors—Here and There.

Tom Barkman, is in Bedford working for the A. T. & T. Co.

Frank McCoy of Madley, was a Bedford visitor on Tuesday.

Miss Mae Housel, of this place, is visiting relatives in Hooversville.

Mr. Dorce Horne, of Newport News is now visiting his sister, Mrs. George Beegle of the Cove.

Mr. George Booty, of Philadelphia, is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe W. Booty, of West John street.

Mr. George Imgrund, of near New Baltimore, was transacting business in Bedford last Saturday.

L. T. Griffith, of Osterburg, and J. H. Griffith, of Reynoldsdale, transacted business in Bedford on Monday.

Misses Veda Rose and Dolly Rose, of Cumberland Valley, were Bedford visitors on Tuesday.

Mr. Harry Leonard spent some time recently in Cumberland visiting friends.

Mrs. Carrie Cronin and son of Salem, Ohio, are spending two weeks with her mother, Mrs. Emma Corle, in Friend's Cove.

Joseph Blair Clapper and Vera Ruth Smith, both of Hopewell, were married in Cumberland on Saturday last.

On Monday the proceedings will be started for determining the relation of the school board finances to the borough finances.

Mrs. A. R. Peters and little daughter, Katharine, returned home on Tuesday after a two week's visit in Spangler.

About 65 A. T. & T. men arrived in Bedford from Pittsburgh to splice the cable from Bedford to Pittsburgh. They will be here about three weeks.

John Longenecker, Guy Barley and M. Honesucker, of Martinsburg, Blair county, attended the cattle sale held by the Holstein Cattle Association of Friend's Cove last week.

Mrs. Clayton Smith of Friend's Cove is attending a meeting of the Committee on Household Economy of the Penna. State Grange, in Harrisburg. She will also visit friends in Lancaster.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles I. Rosensteel and mother and Wynona and William Harrison, of McKeesport, visitor friends and relatives in Bedford recently.

The new apportionment bill has put Blair, Huntingdon, Bedford and Fulton counties together as a congressional district, instead of the old district of Bedford, Blair and Cambria. The judicial district remains the same.

Mr. W. J. Beegle, of Arrow, Somerset County, was in Bedford transacting business yesterday. Mr. Arrow was called here by the serious condition of his father-in-law, Mr. Malachi Claar, who suffered a paralytic stroke last Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Randolph and daughter, Miss Helen of Braddock, were visiting Mrs. Randolph's father, Mr. John W. Barkman of Monroe Township the past week. On Monday morning they returned home to prepare for their departure for Los Angeles, Calif., where Mr. Randolph expects to enter business, having sold his home and electrical business in Braddock.

FRIEND'S COVE HOLSTEIN ASSOCIATION DOING GOOD WORK

The Friend's Cove Holstein Association, composed of nine farmers of Colerain Township, who recently decided that for the betterment of their own and their neighbors herds they would bring into the community some pure bred Holstein cattle, accordingly sent two of their number, Messrs. C. D. Cessna and Samuel Cessna to Wilkes-Barre, where they bought four cows and fifteen heifers. These cattle were sired by the greatest blood in this country, King Pontiac, Maple Knoll, Ormsby, Poutland, Sir Lyons Hengervad and Woodcrest Pittje. They were offered for sale on Friday, April 8. The results of this sale were good and it is to be hoped that the community will be further benefited by a repetition of this. The members of this organization are to be praised for their efforts to improve the dairy herds of Friend's Cove.

DUNNINGS CREEK CHARGE

Reformed church, St. Paul's congregation, Rev. J. Albert Eyerler will preach in this church and administer the holy communion on Sunday afternoon April 17th at 2:30. This will be the last opportunity to bring an offering for the apportionment and a most liberal offering is therefore urged for this time.

SURPRISE PARTY.

A number of friends of Mrs. Ross Diehl members of St. John's Reformed Church and a few neighbors surprised her at her home on last Monday evening upon the occasion of her birthday. Dainty, delicious refreshments were served and a most delightful time was had by all—even or especially the twins.

Eliza S. Hoover

Mrs. Eliza S. Hoover, after a long illness passed away at her home in Napier Township on March 29, 1921. She was a daughter of Henry and Catharine Horn deceased. She was born and raised in Juniata Township. She married Jacob Hoover of Napier Township who still survives. To this union was born one son, Henry who died at the age of four years and one daughter, Mrs. S. A. Snyder, who resides in Mann's Choice. When she died she laid her hands on her breast and closed her eyes and was ready for the great transfer and slept away. She was a great believer in the Spiritual Being and died without a murmur or complaint and will never be forgotten by her family who is left behind. She was raised in the M. E. Church and was a member of the same for thirty seven years, and was a faithful wife and loving mother.

Oliver P. Ross

The funeral of Oliver P. Ross, who was instantly killed at Everett, on last Friday morning when he fell from a telephone pole while at work, was held at Everett Sunday afternoon and was one of the largest funerals held in that section. The services were conducted at the home of his father-in-law, William Crawford, three ministers participating. American Legion Post No. 8 of Everett had charge of the services, members of the order, being pall bearers and a guard of honor, followed by about fifty comrades, most of them in uniform. Interment in the Everett cemetery.

Oliver Ross was aged 26 years and was a native of Saxton, this county. He served in the World War and for some time had been a mechanic in Altoona. His widow who was Miss Janet Crawford, a former Everett girl, is employed by the P. R. R. Company in Altoona. The young husband held a temporary position with the Bedford and Fulton Telephone Company and was employed in the vicinity of Everett last week. He was engaged in fastening a connection box on top of a pole recently erected in Everett borough and had completed the work, being about to descend when the belt became fastened and he fell to the ground, fracturing his skull and right arm. Death occurred in a few minutes.

Mrs. John Zembower

Mrs. Enda Buelah Zembower, wife of John Zembower of Cumberland Valley died Tuesday April 5, aged 44 years, 8 months and 27 days. She leaves her husband and four children besides her mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Ressler, and three sisters: Mrs. Daisy Hite, wife of Harry Hite, Mrs. Ella Hite, wife of Darius Hite, and Mrs. Virgie Zembower, wife of W. P. Zembower. The funeral took place at Fellowship Methodist Protestant church on Thursday afternoon. Rev. Martin Luther Enders, of Cumberland, officiating because of the absence of her pastor, Rev. B. F. Bryan. The pall bearers were: George O'Neal, Hosea Miller, Clyde Elliott and Ham. Elliott. Mrs. Zembower was a spendid christian character and was held in high esteem by all.

Mrs. Mary A. Crum.

Mrs. Mary A. Crum, widow of the late George Crum, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. E. B. Sanderson, Saxton, Pa., on Sunday April 10th. She was born December 10th 1844 and was aged therefore 76 years and 4 months. She is survived by the following children who mourn the loss of one who was a good mother: Mrs. C. B. Wood and W. H. Crum of Altoona, Pa.; Mrs. H. B. James of New York City; Mrs. Levi Dunlap of Bellwood, Pa.; Mrs. O. B. Steele and Mrs. E. E. Sanderson of Saxton, Pa.; Mrs. H. H. Wilkins of McKeesport, Pa. and T. S. Crum of Cassville, Pa. Two children preceded her to the spirit world. Mrs. Ardella Hess and Mrs. A. J. Clark. Mrs. Crum was a life-long member of the Reformed church and was faithful in her devotion to the things of her Lord. Her funeral was held from the home of her daughter Mrs. Sanderson on Wednesday afternoon, April 13th and was in charge of Rev. J. Albert Eyerler, of St. John's Reformed church Bedford, Pa.

IGO—DIEHL

In St. Paul's Reformed church, Latrobe, at six o'clock April 6, in the presence of a few immediate friends and friends, Charles R. Igo and Miss Mary Mabel Diehl were united in marriage by Rev. W. H. Landis. Following the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Igo left on a wedding trip to New York City and points in the east. They will return to make their home in Derry, where the groom is in the employ of the P. R. R.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. Taylor Diehl, of Colerain township this county. She has been with the P. R. R. until recently. The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Igo and is a veteran of the World War.

A young man sighed to his sweetheart the other day when he told her that at times in thinking of her he was tempted to commit suicide. She consoled him by telling him "not to worry about it" "All of us can look back on our lives and see where we've made mistakes."

The Ladies' of St. John's Reformed Church will hold a cake and pie sale and market at John P. Cuppett's Insurance Office on Saturday April 23rd.

PITTSBURGH COLONY DISCOVERS ROMANCE

The Pittsburgh colony were greatly surprised yesterday when announcements were received of the marriage of Mrs. Marguerite Hughes, of Pittsburgh, and Mr. Walter Mead, Earl of New York. The wedding took place very quietly some time ago owing to the bride's family being in mourning.

Mrs. Hughes, who is the widow of the late Theo. W. Hughes, of Bedford, Pa., and the granddaughter of the late Jacob Friday, of Pittsburgh, was educated at the Mount de Chantal, Wheeling, W. Va., and the Carnegie Technical School, of Pittsburgh.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl are taking a short automobile trip and spending their honeymoon at "Earlswood," the Earl summer home, on Lake Hopatcong, N. J. Late in the fall they will be "at home" in Roselle, N. J.

Bird Contest Closes

The annual Bird contest held by the Bedford Civic Club closed Monday night at the regular monthly meeting of the Club and fourteen prizes were awarded. A splendid program was carried out and the several hundred people in attendance thoroughly enjoyed the evening.

The meeting was presided over by Miss Jessie Barclay, president, and following the regular business meeting Miss Stella Mann, chairman of the Bird Contest Committee, took charge. Of the 75 children who entered this contest in February, 21 boys and 17 girls completed the work required. The boys built wooden bird houses while the girls made cardboard models sets of three—two bird houses and a shelter shelf. A special prize for the girls was offered for wooden bird houses, a story of bird life, or some bit of bird lore.

The work on display was of unusual merit, showing decided improvement, especially among the boys, over the products of last year and the Committee found it necessary to increase the number of prizes offered by five.

The first prize for the boys was awarded to Herman Davidson, for attractive "bungalow" when house which shows marked ability as well as careful work; he received the Reed Bird Guide and $3 in cash; A similar prize was awarded to Hazel required but produced not only the set required but an additional feeding station, fully equipped. These children were, also, awarded the blue ribbon presented by the American Forestry Association.

The second prizes consisting of a Bird Guide and $2, were awarded to John Karns for a six-room martin house, and to Pearl Price for a model set, full size; the third prizes, Bird Guide and $1, Regis Leonard and Anna Litzinger; fourth prize, Bird Guide, Robert Arnold and Jean Brice; fifth Violet Bagley, Jack Moll, Fred Dibert and Clair Parrish. The special prize for the girls was a matter of unusually difficult solution and the judges found it necessary to double the award presenting "American Birds" by Finley to Anna Litzinger for an odd and interesting wren house made of a coconut as well as a second contribution of an original story of a wren, and to Hazel Fodder, who produced a wooden bluebird house and composition, as well. An address was made by Ex-Supt. J. A. Wright and the bird calls by Miss Louise Allen and Mrs. R. P. Allen were much enjoyed. The boys' houses were then put up at auction, the auctioneer, Charles Lee, providing much merriment and undoubtedly increasing the bids by his personal efforts.

MARRIAGE LICENSES.

Charles F. Sipes and Amanda Bowman, both of Everett.

James L. Temley Jr. and Edith Helen Manly, both of Defiance.

Jason H. Ritchey, of Bedford township, and Ella Viola Miller, of Alum Bank.

CIVIC CLUB MARKET

The Civic Club will hold a market on Saturday, April, 23. Goodies, goodies, goodies. Come and see—admission free. Market opens 10:30 a. m. in Mrs. Mary McGirr's store.

FOREST PROTECTION WEEK

Harrisburg, Pa., April 12.—Governor Sproul has authorized the observance of FOREST PROTECTION WEEK from April 17 to 23, and the following statement calling the attention of the citizens of Pennsylvania to the need of keeping fire out of the woods has been issued.

"Out of the forest heritage originally given to Pennsylvania, our forefathers hewed the marvelous agricultural and industrial development of the Keystone State. For generations our great forests were able to supply our own needs for wood, and to contribute generously to the needs of neighboring States. That time is past. Because our people were unmindful of the forests, their glory and richness have departed. The blighting curse of fire, fostered by neglect, has swept over our timberlands until over 5,000,000 acres of forest soil lies barren and idle in Pennsylvania.

"Without wood nothing can be manufactured, nothing grown. Without wood human welfare has never existed and never can exist. To protect our prosperity we must restore our forests. Every acre that will grow timber and that is not needed for even more essential purposes must be made to grow trees. And every acre of growing trees must be made safe against destruction by fire.

"The recurring Spring forest fire season, far more dangerous than the fall is upon us. Carelessness with fire in the woods at this time may cause irreparable loss. The forest fire question is too serious to be set lightly aside.

"Therefore, by authority of William C. Sproul, Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, I ask that the week beginning April 17th, next be observed as FOREST PROTECTION WEEK.

"During that week I earnestly hope that every citizen of the Commonwealth will consider the forests, the benefits, not to be secured from any source which they confer, the reason why they should be protected and perpetuated, and especially how forest fires may be prevented and timber production of Pennsylvania may be restored. Let those who own and those who frequent the forest use patriotic care to eliminate the scourge of forest fire."

FARM BUREAU NOTES

The disease free potato seed obtained by farmers through the efforts of the Farm Bureau arrived in good order and were distributed.

The seed is of the Russet variety, which has been the highest yielding in the State for years. The order of over 100 bu. will be planted beside local seed to determine its yielding qualities in this country. It is expected to give large yields and thus materially lower the cost of producing potatoes, a feature which should be emphasized when potatoes are extremely low in price.

The purchasers of seed are located in many farms of the county.

John Crilly, Imler, Brady Diehl, Clayton Smith, D. W. W. Diehl, Henry Diehl, Reuben Diehl, William Biddle, V. C. Hunt, Samuel Cessna, N. Edward Koontz, John C. Koontz, C. E. Koontz, Friend's Cove, J. J. Hess, Everett, Rt. 3; George Anderson, Cessna; Neff Richards, New Paris, C. A. Rininger, Fishertown; V. Ross Nicodemus, A. R. Logue and E. B. Miller, of Morrison's Cove.

In addition to the disease free seed work, potato spraying demonstrations will be put on in cooperation with John Crilly, Imler and Homer Dively of Baker's Summit.

NEW DRUG STORE FOR BEDFORD

Richard M. Imler, of Bedford, Pa., who for a number of years was the popular and efficient clerk in the Drug Store of Ed D. Heckerman, of this place, will open a Drug Store of his own, in Bedford on or about Saturday, April 16th, 1921. His store will be located on Pitt street, in the room recently occupied by the S. H. Koontz Music Store. The new store will carry a full and complete line of all drugs, medicines and other things found in a modern and up-to-date drug store. It will contain also a soda water fountain.

Mr. Imler is a graduate of the Philadelphia College of Pharmacy and passed a very creditable examination under the State Board of Examiners about two years ago, and would have engaged in his chosen profession, here, at that time, if a suitable location could have been found. Mr. Imler is a young man of natural ability, and while with Mr. Heckerman, he applied himself with such system and efficiency that he learned much about the business. Since then he has supplemented this training with a thorough and complete course in the best College of Pharmacy to be found anywhere, and we feel confident he will be successful, and such is our wish.

CLINIC TO OPEN.

A well-baby clinic will open next Monday afternoon at the Health Centre, when babies will be weighed, measured and examined, and advice given to mothers relative to feeding and care. Dr. H. B. Strock will be in charge, assisted by Miss Marie Sullivan, State Nurse.

BLOODHOUNDS BROUGHT TO RAINSBURG.

On April 5th a pair of Bloodhounds were brought to Rainsburg from West Virginia for the purpose of trailing up if possible the party who burned down the buildings of George W. Logue.

The hounds took a trail and trailed to the home of Dennis Morgart so the testimony developed for the Commonwealth and out to the field in which Mr. Morgart was working and quit. This indicates that the trail was that of Mr. Morgart which of course does not prove Mr Morgart guilty by any means. In the testimony to prove the dogs efficient the dogs' attendant told of an incident which involves a colored preacher. A man had lost a sum of money and came to the conclusion that it was stolen. He sent for these same hounds. They took a trail and followed it to a colored church. They opened the door and allowed the dogs leeway to search the church and they stopped at the pulpit where the colored minister was preaching. Search revealed the money on the person of the colored preacher, some $130. We wonder if his congregation was mortified or stupefied. These two hounds, it was testified, took the tracks made in sawdust, followed down to the road to Morgart's barn smelled of an old coat hung in the barn then followed a trail out to the field. Mr. Morgart said, so testified, that the dogs were good bear dogs, which seemed to be the gist of the conversation at that time. The information was brought by Mr. Logue against Mr. Morgart on the evidence of the dogs following the trail to Mr. Morgart's and on gossip of the community. The Justice of the Peace, Squire Naus, did not decide what disposition to make of the case at the time of going to press, the preliminary being held yesterday at 2 o'clock p. m.

County Treasurer

SHERIFF'S SALES

By virtue of a writ of Fieri Facias issued out of the Court of Common Pleas of Bedford County; and to me directed there will be exposed to public sale, at the Court House in Bedford Borough, County of Bedford and State of Pennsylvania, on Saturday, April 10, 1921

at one o'clock p. m. the following real estate, viz:

All the defendant's right, title and interest in all those three certain tracts, pieces or parcels of land, and more particularly described as follows:

No. 1 A tract of land situate, lying and being in West St. Clair Township, Bedford County, Pennsylvania, adjoining lands of Samuel Tuffill, George W. Knisely, Belle Mellas, Joseph Kisely and Earnest Mellas, containing 103 acres, 49 perches, more or less. All cleared and under fence, and having thereon erected a new FRAME BARN with two apple orchards. Known as the "Reininger Farm."

No. 2 A tract of land situate, lying and being in West St. Clair Township, Bedford County, Pennsylvania, adjoining lands of Elliot Wilson, Rachel McDonald, Earnest Mellas, Watson Lingenfelter, and Eli Berkey, known as the "Snyder Farm," containing 172 acres, 10 perches, net, about 140 acres cleared and fenced, and the balance in timber. Having thereon erected a two-story LOG DWELLING, large frame bank barn, hog house and wagon shed combined, and a modern chicken house; and improved with large bearing orchard of pears, plums and apples.

No. 3 A tract of land situate, lying and being in West St. Clair and Union Township, Bedford County, Pennsylvania, known as the "Claycomb Farm," adjoining lands of Irvin Claycomb, Geo. Clark, William and Geo. Berkhimer and the heirs of Margaret Mowry and Jane Akerfoot containing 105 acres, more or less about 75 acres cleared and fenced and the balance in timber. Having thereon erected a two-story, FRAME DWELLING with two apple roof and large chicken house and other outbuildings.

A description of the above three tracts of land by courses and distances may be found by reference to the deed of John M. Egolf and Sarah J. Egolf to Lena M. Mowry, recorded February 21, 1916, and recorded in the Recorder's Office of Bedford County in Deed Book Vol. 30, page 302.

Seized and taken in execution and to be sold as the property of Lena M. Mowry and G. S. Mowry, defendants.

Also, all of the defendants' right, title and interest of in and to the following described tract of land situate lying and being in Lincoln township, Bedford County, Pa. adjoining lands on the East and North by Lowry Harr West by E. L. Hartow and South Amos Edward Blazedell McDonald. Containing 128 acres, about 50 acres cleared and balance in timber, having thereon erected a two story dwelling house, frame bank barn 10x64 feet and all necessary outbuildings. A lot of fruit trees and running water.

Seized and taken in execution and to be sold as the property of John W. Rouzer, defendant.

TERMS: The price for which the property is sold must be paid at the time of sale, or such other arrangements made as will be approved, otherwise the property will immediately be put up and sold at the risk and at the expense of the person to whom it was first sold, who in case of deficiency, at such resale shall make good the same, and in no instances will the deed be acknowledged unless the money is actually paid to the sheriff. Purchasers who are lien creditors must secure a certified list of liens for the sheriff in order to apply the amount of bid or any part thereof on their liens.

J. M. Fink, Sheriff.

1/4 Of A Cent Will Save Me From White Diarrhoea!

Edgar Briggs, the well-known breeder of high-class Single-Comb White Leghorns, and author of the book, "Profits in Poultry Keeping Solved," of Pleasant Valley, N. Y., says: "Just give the chicks Avalon Farms Poultry Tablets in drinking water the first five days when put out, then for a week, starting the 21st day. That will bring them through the danger period."

Protect your flock and your poultry profits from danger of disease epidemics.

Just Give Me

AVALON FARMS

POULTRY TABLETS

Costs only 1/4 of a cent to treat a chick. And it costs only 2 cents to treat any adult chicken, turkey, duck, goose or pheasant. These tablets prevent Cholera and Blackhead from attacking your flocks, and cure if they are now afflicted. They stimulate young chicks' growth, give the strength to resist disease attacks, aid poultry to get the most good out of the food. You should get a supply at once.

LESSON FOR APRIL 17

BIBLE TEACHINGS ABOUT WORK.

LESSON TEXT—Mark 6:1-3; John 5:17; 11 Thess. 3:6-13.

GOLDEN TEXT—Not slothful in business; fervent in spirit; serving the Lord.—Rom. 12:11.

REFERENCE MATERIAL—Ex. 20:9-11; Prov. 22:29; 23:19, 31:10-31; Eph. 4:28

PRIMARY TOPIC—A Child Who Helped.

JUNIOR TOPIC—The Ant and the Sluggard.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Workers and Shirkers.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Labor Problems.

Work in relation to God has a different meaning than in relation to man. In relation to God it means continued activity directed to some purpose or end. In relation to man it means manual labor.

1. Mighty Works Wrought by Jesus (Mark 6:1-3).

As God's obedient servant, Jesus energetically gave himself up to His work.

1. Teaching in the synagogue (v. 2). This He did on the Sabbath day. He could let no opportunity to do good pass.

2. The result of His teaching (vv. 2, 3). (1) The people were astonished. In their astonishment they asked questions: (a) From whence hath this man these things? (b) What wisdom is given unto Him? (c) Is not this the carpenter? (d) Are not His sisters with us? That His wisdom and power were superhuman, they could not doubt. The only answer to their questions is Christ's absolute Deity.

(2) The people were offended (v. 3). Not being able to answer their own questions and to believe their own eyes and ears, they rejected Him. This rejection was not because they knew Him too well, but because they knew Him not at all. His countrymen judged Him by His brothers, sisters, and father, and therefore failed to know Him.

11. "My Father Worketh Hitherto, and I Work" (John 5:17).

Jesus had on the Sabbath day healed an impotent man. They sought to kill Him for this good deed, and when He linked himself with God in this they more earnestly sought to kill Him. They tried to kill Him because He made himself equal with God. The special points of equality with God were:

1. Giving life to the dead. No human being has ever been able to raise another from the dead. The Jews rightly interpreted His claim to being able to raise the dead as a claim to Deity.

2. Judging mankind. No human being is wise enough to judge his fellow being. Christ's claim to be the judge of mankind they interpreted to be His claim to Deity, and they were correct.

III. The Man Who Will Not Work Should Not Eat (11 Thess. 3:6-13).

There had developed among the Christians at Thessalonica a tendency to idleness. Some were neglecting their lawful earthly callings—even to the extent that they were becoming a charge to the church. From the context of the Thessalonian epistles it would seem that this serious condition was the result of wrong views concerning the second coming of Christ. Such as this is wholly wrong and absolutely contrary to the significance of "the blessed hope." The attitude of those possessing an intelligent view of the Lord's coming as taught by Christ and the apostles, is earnest attention to the present duty.

"Occupy till I come," is Christ's charge. Speculative star-gazers have brought this precious doctrine into disrepute. Unceasing fidelity to all the responsibilities of the present is the correct attitude of those who are waiting for the Son from heaven. To correct this wrong, Paul—

1. Asserts his authority to command (v. 6). This authority was given him by Christ.

2. Commands them to withdraw from those who thus walk disorderly (v. 6).

3. Paul's example (vv. 7-9). Paul pressed with great earnestness the doctrine of the Lord's return, and yet consistently continued in his lawful calling. In order to not be chargeable unto them he labored with great earnestness night and day.

4. Those who will not work should not eat (v. 10). This is the right principle upon which to base all works of charity. It is the efficient cure for pauperism. The right economic order has as its foundation principle: Work in order to eat. This should apply to all classes, rich and poor.

5. Busybodies exhorted (vv. 11, 12). Idle men and women always become busybodies. Paul's exhortation is that they with quietness work and eat their own bread.

Man's Glory.

Man's glory lies in his striving after the best; his shame, in contentment with the second rate. The banner under which the true man marches bears the word "Excelsior," but the goal upon which he fixes his eye bears the inscription, "The Best."—Church Missionary.

IN THE SPRING YOUR BLOOD NEEDS A TONIC

Winter Weakens Blood, Makes Faces Pale. Take Gude's Pepto-Mangan

THE BEST KNOWN BLOOD TONIC

Drowsy Spring-Fever Feeling That Comes from Sluggish Blood Will Soon Leave You

As all growing things on earth shoot into new life in Springtime, so do the billions of cells that make up each part of the body renew their vigor.

As you open the windows, breathe the Spring air, and let in the sunshine, the red corpuscles in your blood should carry more oxygen to the tiny cells.

The red corpuscles are tiny disc-shaped particles, swimming in enormous numbers in the blood. They carry oxygen to cells in all parts of the body, and they carry away worn-out waste matter. Sometimes, especially in the Spring, after the winter indoors and more or less sickness, the red corpuscles themselves need rebuilding. Gude's Pepto-Mangan contains just the ingredients to give them greater power to absorb oxygen and to distribute it throughout the body.

That is why it is such a good Spring tonic. It helps so much to bring back color to cheeks made pale and wan by the necessary indoor winter life. It adds to the number of red corpuscles. With fine Spring days and Gude's Pepto-Mangan you gain in vigor and attain good health.

Don't go around drowsy this Spring. Take that good tonic Gude's Pepto-Mangan. You can get it in Tablet form or in liquid form at your druggist's. Both forms have the same medicinal value. Insist upon genuine Gude's Pepto-Mangan. Advertisement that two of the bandits had been left behind. These two reset the switches for the main track, leaving everything as they had found it, and then crossed over to the auto.

CHAPTER I

I was just thinking that all this mystery and kidnapping and gun play must be sort of hard on the young woman and the girl, but, though my half of the allotment was shivering a little and struggling up just a grain closer to me, she proved that she hadn't lost her nerve.

"Did you see the name on that car when the engine went past to get in behind it?" she asked.

"No," said the boss; and I hadn't, either.

"I did," she asserted, showing that her eyes, or her wits, were quicker than ours. "I had just one little glimpse of it. The name is 'A-I-e-x-a,'" spelling it out.

Mr. Norcross started as if he had been shot.

"The Alexa? That is Mr. Chadwick's private car—they've kidnapped him!" Then he whirled short on me. "Jimmie, are you man enough to go with me and try a tackle on those fellows over there in that auto?"

I said I was; but I didn't add what I thought—that it would probably be a case of double suicide for us two to go up against a pair of armed thugs with our bare hands. The young woman put in her word.

"You mustn't think of doing such a thing!" she protested; and she was still telling him all the different reasons why he mustn't, when we heard the creak and grind of the stolen engine coming back down the old spur.

After that there was nothing to do but to wait and see what was going to happen next. What did happen was as blind as all the rest. The engine was stopped somewhere in the gulch back of us and out of sight from our hiding-place, and pretty soon the two men who had gone with her came hurrying across out of the hill shadows, making straight for the auto. A minute or two later they had climbed into the machine, the motor had sputtered, and the car was gone.

CHAPTER II

Mr. Chadwick's Special

Of course, as soon as the skip-out of the four hold-up men gave us a free hand and we knew it was up to us to get busy and do something. It was a safe bet that the Alexa was carrying her owner, and in that case Mr. John Chadwick and his train crew were somewhere back in the hills, without an engine, and with a good prospect of staying "put" until somebody should go and hunt them up.

"We've got to find out what they've done with Mr. Chadwick," Mr. Norcross broke out. And then: "It can't be very far to where they have left the engine, and if they haven't crippled it—" He stopped short and slung a question at the two women: "Will you two stay here with Jimmie while I go and see what I can find in that gulch?"

They both paid me the compliment of saying that they'd stay with me, but the young woman suggested that it might be just as well if we should all go up the gulch together. So we piked out in the dark, the boss helping Mrs. Sheila to hobnob along over the cross-ties of the spur, and the little girl stumbling on behind with me. We had followed the spur track up the gulch for maybe a short quarter of a mile when we came to the engine. As we had feared it might be, the big machine was crippled. There was a key gone out of one of the connecting-rod crank-pin straps; one miserable little piece of steel, maybe eight inches long and tapering one way, and half an inch or so thick the other; but that was a plenty. We couldn't make a move without it.

I thought we were done for, but Mr. Norcross chased me up into the cab for a lantern. With the light we began to hunt around in the short grass. I had been sensible enough to show the little girl the other connecting-rod key, so she knew exactly what to look for, and it did me a heap of good when it turned out that she was the one who found the lost bit of steel.

"I've got it—I've got it!" she cried; and sure enough she had. The hold-up people had merely taken it out and thrown it aside on the extremely probable chance that nobody would be foolish enough to look for it so near at hand, or, looking, would be able to find it in the dark.

It didn't take more than a minute or two, with a wrench from the en-

"Oh, Jimmie's all right; he knew what I had for dinner this evening, and he'll know what I'm going to have for breakfast tomorrow morning."

With the bridge off, the big man went ahead abruptly, cutting out all the frills.

"You finished your building contract on the Oregon Midland, Graham, and after the road was opened for business you refused an offer of the general managership. Would you mind telling me why you did that?"

"Not in the least. There is nothing in it. An operating head is now nothing more than a score-keeper for a national gambling game. The boss gamblers around the railroad post in the Stock exchange tell him what he has to do and where he has to get off. Stock gambling, under whatever name it masquerades—boosting values, buying and selling margins, reorganizations, with their huge rake-offs for the underwriters—is the incubus which is crushing the life out of the nation's industries, especially in the railroad field. It makes me wish I'd never seen a railroad track."

"Yet it is your trade, isn't it?" asked the wheat king.

"It is; but luckily I can build railroads as well as operate them; and there are other countries besides the United States of America. I'm on my way home to Illinois for a little visit with my mother and sisters; and after that I think I shall close with an offer I've had from one of the Canadian companies."

"Good boy!" chuckled the Chicago magnate. "In due time we might hope to be reading your name in the newspapers—'Sir Graham Norcross, D.S.O.' or something of that sort." Then, with a sharp return to the sort of gritting seriousness: "You've been riding over the Pioneer Short Line since early this morning, Graham: what do you think of it?"

I couldn't see the boss' smile, but I could figure it pretty well when he said: "There may be worse managed, worse neglected pieces of railroad track in some of the great transcontinental lines, but if there are I haven't happened to notice them. I suppose it is capitalized to death, like many of the others."

"Fictitious values doubtless have something to do with it at the present stage of the game," Mr. Chadwick admitted. "It has always been a good earning property, being largely, even yet, without much local competition. But from the day it was completed its securities have figured in the market only for their speculative values. The property itself has never been considered, save as a means to an end; the end being to enable one bunch of the Wall Street gamblers you speak of to make a 'killing' and unload on another bunch."

"The old story," said Mr. Norcross. "We are bumping over the net result, right now," Mr. Chadwick went on. "Pioneer Short Line is practically in the last ditch. The stock has slumped to forty and worse; Shaffer, the general manager and the only able man we have had for years, has resigned in disgust; and if something isn't done tomorrow morning in Portal City, I know of at least one minority stockholder who is going to throw the whole mess into the courts and try for a receivership."

Mr. Norcross looked up quickly.

"Are you the minority stockholder, Uncle John?" he asked, letting himself use the name by which Mr. Chadwick was best known in the wheat pit.

"I am—more's the pity. I had a little lapse of sanity one fine morning a few years ago and bought in for an investment. I've done everything I could think of, Graham, to persuade Breck Dunton and his Wall Street accomplices to spend just one dollar in ten of their reorganization and recapitalization stealings on the road itself, but it's no good. Dunton has been making an inspection trip over the system with a dozen or so of his New York cronies. It's a junketing excursion, pure and simple, but while they're here they'll get together and go through the form of picking out a new general manager. I'm on the board and they had to send me notice, though it's an even bet they hoped I'd stay away."

"Are you really going to spring the receivership on the Dunton people tomorrow?"

"I'm going to give Dunton his chance. He can appoint the man I want appointed as general manager, with full power to act, and ratify a little plan I've got up my sleeve for providing a bit of working capital for the road, or—he can turn me down."

"And if he does turn you down?"

"Then, by George, I'll see if I can't persuade the courts to put the property into bankruptcy and install my man as receiver!"

"I don't envy your man his job, either way around; not the least little morsel in the world," said the boss, quietly. And then: "Who is he, Uncle John?"

The wheat king gave a great laugh. "Don't tell me you haven't guessed it," he chuckled. "You're the man, Graham."

But now Mr. Norcross had something to say for himself, sitting up straight and shaking his head sort of sorrowfully at the big man in the padded chair.

"No, you don't, my good old friend; not in a thousand years! You'd lose out in the end, and I'd lose out; and, besides, I'm not quite ready to commit suicide." And then to me: "Jimmie, suppose you go and tap on the door and tell the ladies we're pulling into Portal City."

I hung around while the boss was telling Mrs. Sheila and Maisie Ann good-by, and I was in the baggage-room, digging up the put-off stuff, at the good-by minute. But I guess they didn't quarrel any—the boss and Mrs. Sheila. She was laughing a little to herself as I helped her down from the car, and when I asked her where she wanted to go, she said I might ask one of the porters to carry the traps, and we'd walk to the hotel, which was only a few blocks up the main street.

She took Maisie Ann on the other side of her and let two of the blocks go by without saying anything more, and then she gave that quiet little laugh again and said, "Your Mr. Norcross amuses me, Jimmie. He says I have no business to travel without a guardian. What do you think about it?"

I told her I hadn't any thinks coming, and she seemed to take that for a joke and laughed some more. Then she asked me if I'd ever been in New York, and I felt sort of small when I had to tell her that I had never been east of Omaha in all my life. With that, she told me not to worry; that if I stayed with Mr. Norcross I'd probably get to go anywhere I wanted to.

Something in the way she said it made it sound like a little slam on the boss, and of course I wasn't going to stand for that.

"There is one thing about it: the boss will make good wherever he goes," I hit back. "You can bet on that."

"I like your loyalty," she flashed out. "It is a fine thing in a day that is much too careless of such qualities. And I agree with you that your Mr. Norcross is likely to succeed; more than likely, if he will only learn to combine a little gentle cleverness with the heavy hand."

"I don't think you have any cause to blacklist Mr. Norcross," I said. "Hasn't he been right good and brotherly to both of you this evening?"

"Oh, I didn't mean that," she said real earnestly. "But in the stateroom in Mr. Chadwick's car: the ventilator was open, you know, until Maisie Ann got up and shut it, and we couldn't very well help hearing what was said about the kidnapping. Neither Mr. Chadwick nor Mr. Norcross seemed to be able to account for it."

"Can you account for it?" I asked, bluntly enough, I guess.

At this she smiled and said, "It would be rather presumptuous for me to try where Mr. Norcross and Mr. Chadwick failed, wouldn't it? But maybe I can give you just a wee little hint. You saw the two men who went over to the auto and smoked while they were waiting for the other two to come back? If I am not mistaken, I have seen them many times before, and they are very well known here in Portal City. One of them, the smaller one with the derby hat and the short overcoat, was either Mr. Rufus Hatch or his double; and the other, the heavy-set one, might have been Mr. Gustave Henckel, Mr. Hatch's partner in the Red Tower company."

This didn't help out much, but you can bet that I made a note of the two names.

"You are going back to Mr. Chadwick's car?" she asked, when she was telling me good-by and thanking me for coming up to the hotel with them.

I told her I was, and then she came around to the kidnapping business again of her own accord.

"You may give Mr. Norcross the hint I gave you, if you wish," she said; "only you must be a good boy, Jimmie, and not drag me into it."

"I see," I nodded; "I'll tell the boss, when I get a good chance, and you can bet your last dollar he won't tangle you up in it—he isn't put together that way."

"Well, then, good-night," she smiled, giving me her hand. And with that she sort of edged the little girl into the elevator before we could get a chance to shake hands, and I heard her tell the boy to take them up to the mezzanine landing.

By and by, I went down to the station and began to hunt for the Alexa. The boss and Mr. Chadwick were facing each other across the table, which was all littered up with papers and maps and reports, and they hardly noticed me when I blew in and sat down a little to one side.

Just after I broke in, Mr. Norcross jumped up and began to pace back and forth before the table, with his

FEARED SHE HAD HEART TROUBLE

In One Month Tanlac
Completely Restores Williamsport Woman's Health.

"I began taking Tanlac not much more than a month ago but, just think, it has restored my health in this short time," declared Mrs.
George Bowers, 1233 Anne St., Williamsport, a few days ago. Mrs.
Bowers has lived in Williamsport all her life and is highly esteemed by all who knew her.

"I had indigestion so bad that, no matter what or how little I ate, it would sour on my stomach and cause me to suffer awfully. My appetite was so poor that I never felt hungry and couldn't eat enough to keep up my strength. There was often a dreadful burning in my stomach and I would have the worst sort of pains.
I would bloat up awfully and my breath would seem to be cut off almost entirely.

"My heart palpitated terribly and it frightened me, for I thought I had heart trouble. At night I slept but little and every morning felt tired out to start the day off. My housework was burdensome for I often had to sit down and rest.

"I have taken only three bottles of Tanalac, but already I feel perfectly well. I am surprised at the way Tanlac has helped me so much in so short a time. Why, it seems wonderful. I enjoy everything I eat because it all digests properly and I never have the least trouble. My breathing is free and easy and I am no longer troubled with palpitation.
I sleep well and feel so much stronger that my housework does not tire me at all. Tanlac deserves every bit of the praise people are giving it.
It certainly is a grand medicine.

THE UNATTAINABLE

"THERE'S a spot on my back, about the size of a postage stamp, that has been itching all day," said the retired merchant, "and it has caused me more grief than the last attack of rheumatism. I can't reach it with either hand, and I have been backing up against every telephone pole and gatepost, rubbing like a horse with the mange. A man of my social standing doesn't look dignified while thus engaged, but when a man's back itches, he has to defy the conventions, and get relief the best way he can."

"I can understand just how it has worried you," said the hotelkeeper.
"The fact that you couldn't reach around and claw the itching place with your fingers kept the matter fresh in your memory and got on your nerves. The pursuit of the unattainable always is more interesting to us than the easier work close to hand.
You had your whole person to scratch, and might have bought a currycomb for a quarter, and had a good time, but you couldn't be happy until you had reached the one inaccessible spot.

"A while ago I imagined I had severe disease, and went and saw the doctor. He knows I have money in the bank, and am considered good pay, so he confirmed my worst fears, and made up his mind to have me for his star patient, until one of us ptered out. He threw an awful scare into me, so that I went home sweating ice cold circus lemonade.

"He gave me some medicines and a lot of instructions. Among them was one to the effect that when I went to bed I should always sleep on my right side. He cautioned me over and over again against laying on my left side, and left the impression that if I disobeyed him, I'd wake up some morning to find myself a candidate for a loral horseshoe.

"That matter looked easy at the time, and I assured the doctor I'd follow his bylaws to the letter. When I went to bed that night, I stretched out on my right side, and in ten minutes I was just suffering to roll over.
I don't believe I ever had such a unpleasant feeling. It seemed to me the height of human happiness would lie in sleeping on one's left side.
I followed instructions for two nights, and then I decided that life wasn't worth such sacrifices, and I rolled over and slept on my left side, and nothing happened. I was feeling better than usual next morning when I got up.

"Of course this experience lessened my confidence in the doctor's instructions, and I concluded that if I was going to sidestep the instructions I might as well sidestep the medicines, too, for they tasted like low life in a Chinese alley, and I threw the whole out of the window. Thus the saw-bones lost his most promising patient because he handed out a rule that wasn't strictly necessary.

"Speaking of the unattainable, do you know what's the matter with Silas Furberlow? He has everything a man could ask, a stranger in the town would say. He has a beautiful home and a wife who would be considered a success anywhere, and he has festoons of money where it will do the most good.

"Yet he has a secret sorrow. I think he's the most melancholy man I ever saw, and his trouble is that he can't raise a good stand of whiskers.
Nowadays, when whiskers are considered an infirmity, it seems strange that any man should grieve over such a matter.

"He sends all over the United States for hair growers, and half the time his face is blistered or swollen, and still the whiskers won't grow on him. If some miracle happened, and he woke up some morning to find his countenance all covered with whiskers, he'd probably have them shaved off within a week; but because they won't grow, he won't be happy till he gets them."

Weary of Whirlwinds.
"You don't seem to like the idea of a whirlwind campaign."

"I hate the mere mention of it," replied Farmer Cornstossel. "Maybe you'd find it hard to understand, never havin' lived, as I did, in a part of the country where every once in awhile you have to get out and run for a cyclone cellar."

Plenty of Time.
Teacher—What, Bobby, you say you don't want to be president of the United States?

Bright Lad—Not just now, thanks.
If it's all the same to you I'd rather wait until after a couple of more elections.—American Legion Weekly.

His Weak End.
"Reggie is going to the country on Saturday."
"For a week-end?"
"Yes; his head's been bothering him."—Boston Transcript.

HAVE YOUR EYE EXAMINED BY MY METHOD.

I personally pay very careful attention to the proper fitting of a nose piece or bridge. I see that it has the exact shape and style to fit snugly to the one particular point on the crest of the nose so the pupil of the eye can exactly conform with the center or middle of the lens, and the object will then be deposited at the proper place on the Retina, and thereby your error in Refraction will be corrected, and you will have a perfect vision or sight, and a pair of glasses that will harmonize with your face. The sight is often interfered with by disease of the Vital organs, "Creeping disease," of slow progress, the nerves which enter into the eyes, the upper and lower lids which control the muscular action, very often become impaired by disease, need to be recognized and properly treated.
All these are carefully looked after by me with the Ophthalmoscope, and by Urinary analysis, when necessary, and my simple and most effective method of examining the Eye for Glasses.

Over fifty years ago a young physician practiced widely in Pennsylvania and became famous for his uniform success in the curing of disease.
This was Dr. R. V. Pierce who afterwards established himself in Buffalo N. Y., and placed his "Golden Medical Discovery," in the drug stores of the United States. When you feel run-down, out of sorts, blue and despondent try the energizing influence of Golden Medical Discovery in tablet or liquid form. Nearly a million bottles were sold last year.

PENNSYLVANIA STATE ITEMS

Bloomington.—Eighteen women have been drawn for jury duty at the May term of court in Columbia county.

Millersville.—Dr. Charles B. Gordner was re-elected principal of the state normal school here.

Greensburg.—Stanley Chat, a 15-year-old school boy, was lodged in jail here, charged with having sent a threatening letter to his teacher.

Dunbar.—Ordered two years ago in France, a china set of 110 pieces has just arrived for Mrs. D. C. Fosselman, who at the time the dishes were ordered was Miss Charlotte C. Umbel, of Uniontown. Dr. Fosselman, while in France, ordered them for his sweet-heart, and they arrived on their first wedding anniversary.

Butler.—Two men with blackened faces held up and robbed Martin Wiley, aged 64; Thomas Wiley, aged 77, and Miss Jane Wiley, aged 74, in their home in Clinton township, twelve miles south of here. The thieves made away with $1475.

Uniontown.—According to word just received here, Miss Martha Ruby, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Ruby, of this city, who has been in the Red Cross service in France for more than a year, has left from a point on the Mediterranean sea for the United States. Miss Ruby saw active service in the world war, making two trips across the Atlantic. She expects to arrive home in about two weeks.

Pittsburgh.—Violent deaths in Allegheny county in March reached 277.

York.—Plans for a memorial entrance to the York county fair grounds were adopted by the managers. The entrance will be 168 feet in width and mounted on panels in the main wall will be bronze tablets bearing the names of York county's heroes who paid the supreme sacrifice in the world war.

Shamokin Dam.—A huge hydroelectric plant to cost $3,000,000 or more is to be located here, according to plans of the Pennsylvania Power and Light company. The old Pennsylvania Coal company dam, which spans the Susquehanna river between this point and Sunbury, is to be utilized and the big plant would be erected just below what is known as the "lock-house," where there is a fall in the water. It is declared that the enormous use of coal by the power company at its eleven central Pennsylvania towns would be stopped.

Shenandoah.—Chester George, 18 years old, of Brandonville, was terribly burned from head to foot. He was on his way to work at Knickerbocker colliery here when he went to assist in putting out a bush fire which had fired to the Waste House Run supply house, causing a barrel of kerosene oil to explode, covering him from head to foot with the blazing lubricant. His garments ablaze he ran and plunged into the Waste House Run reservoir, extinguishing the flames, but he was so badly burned he was unable to get out. Fellow workers fished him out of the reservoir, saving him from drowning.

Pittsburgh.—W. W. Mendel, of this city, was elected president of the Odontological Society of Western Pennsylvania at its annual meeting.

Harrisburg.—Jacob C. Arbogast, formerly treasurer of the accountancy of the public welfare commission, has been appointed chief of the office of maintenance of the department of forestry.

Shamokin.—Council voted against giving consideration to any proposals for changing the standard time.

Pittsburgh.—Two firemen were injured and damage estimated at $250,000 resulted when fire started in the plant of the Hall Packing company at Homestead. The flames spread to other business houses, but firemen summoned from near-by boroughs succeeded in bringing it under control.

Chester.—The explosion of a fuel oil tank at the Marcus Hook plant of the Sun company, any resulted in the loss of 100 barrels of oil. Plant firemen assisted by the companies from this city, Marcus Hook and Linwood succeeded in extinguishing the flames.

Harrisburg.—Lancaster county which in 1909 ranked second among all counties in the United States in the value of crops harvested, dropped to fifth place in 1919, according to census figures. Los Angeles county, Cal. retained its lead and San Joaquin and Tulare counties, Cal. and Aroostook, Maine, went ahead of Lancaster. In the value of farm property, Lancaster dropped from seventh on January 1, 1910, to eleventh, on January 1, 1920.

Lancaster.—Repeal of the luxury tax and the substitution of a direct tax for the income tax were advocated by members of the Pennsylvania Retail Dry Goods Association at their annual meeting here. Optimists as to future business was expressed. Delegates from many of the leading mercantile establishments of the state were in attendance.

New Providence.—Mrs. Franklin G. Stetson, 72 years old, of this place was found dead in her barn where she had gone to attend to some work.

Freeland.—Constables will patrol the streets with shotguns to kill unlicensed dogs.

South Towanda.—Mrs. Wallace Pool, of this place, was critically burned when coal gas, formed in the cook stove at her home, exploded.

Altoona.—Coincident with the opening of the "Milk for Health" campaign in the schools most of the milk dealers cut one cent a quart off the price.

THOMAS H. INCE'S

vivid drama of life and love

It is Ince's most colossal production since "Civilization". It was five months in the making, and engaged thousands of people for the many triumphant spectacular scenes with the single exception of "Way Down East" it is the most costly production produced during the year of 1920.

The U. S. Battleship "Minneapolis" was loaned by the Government for the photographing of the scenes depicting a fearful disaster at sea. It has a supreme love story that will never be forgotten. The fashion parade of gowns and modes have never been equaled on the stage or screen heretofore. It bears Thomas H. Ince's personal gift edge endorsement as being the most amazing colorful, spectacular accomplishment in his entire career as a producer.

First show 7 second 9, both days.

To Write Well.

For a man to write well there are required three necessities: to read the best authors, observe the best speakers, and much exercise of his own style. In style, to consider what ought to be written, and after what manner he must first think and exorcise his matter, then choose his words and examine the weight of either then take care in placing and ranking both matter and words that the composition be comely; and to do this with diligence and often.—Ben Jonson

DEPARTMENT STORE

"The Dependable Store"

BEDFORD, PA.

THE COME BACK OF THE AMERICAN DOLLAR.

The good old United States Dollar is coming back and displacing the thirty-two centimitation which we have called a dollar for the last four years.

The dollar today will buy more than 10 lbs. of sugar. The dollar of 1920 bought only three and one-third lbs. of sugar. The dollar now buys twenty pounds of Rice against six pounds in 1920, sixty pounds of potatoes as against eleven and one-half in 1920 four dozen Eggs as against one and one-half dozen a year ago, nearly three pounds of butter as against a little over 1 lb. and four pounds of good coffee as against two pounds a year ago.

The dollar also will now buy three times as much clothing and better clothing, and nearly twice as much meat as it did in War days.

The Nickel also is staging a come back. During the war the Nickel would buy nothing not even a cheap cigar but now many articles that in the old days sold for a nickel are back at the old stand.

In conclusion would give you all this financial tip—if you want your nickels, dimes, quarters and dollars to grow larger save them for our Anniversary Sale which will be featured in the near future.

Cigar Nomenclature.

The nomenclature of the cigar trade is one of the very interesting phases of democracy. No gentleman intent upon building up a market for a 10-cent cigar ever named it for a statesman. He complimented, instead an actor, a philanthropist, a race horse, a hypothetical Indian maiden or a supposititious Spanish grandee. To have named a 10-cent cigar for a statesman would have been to "queer" both the cigar and its involuntary patron. The people would not have stood for that sort of thing. It would have presumed a certain superiority which they would have rebuked both at the cigar stand and at the polls.—Philadelphia Public Ledger's "On Second Thought."
